

Hottest VMH election in years begins

LIVERMORE — The balloting has begun for Valley Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, and the outcome of the election could have a great effect on hospital service in the valley for years to come.

Expansion of health facilities, either at the present Livermore site or construction of a new medical center in Pleasanton, has emerged as the dominant issue.

Six candidates are vying for three positions.

Dagmar Fulton, current VMH board chairman, is running unopposed for the Pleasanton seat. She was nominated by the VMH nominating committee for another term.

Competing for the Director-At-Large position on the board are VMH nominee Robert G. Olson and challenger James Nissen.

Olson issued a statement Thursday declaring a "definitive course of action" regarding expansion of hospital facilities is "premature." Olson said firmly that "Valley Memorial's operation as an acute care facility will remain intact."

He said the virtues of expanding the current Livermore Hospital versus the building of a second complex in Pleasanton had not been thoroughly understood.

Nissen entered the hospital race in opposition to the new Pleasanton facility, but has since backed off that stand. He promises to make a final decision based on all information available to him as a board member.

VMH nominee Arthur Henry is seeking reelection to the Livermore, Murray Township, seat.

He is opposed by Eric Wente and Aly Loveless.

Wente, a member of the local wine-making family, "remains to be convinced" about the proposed Pleasanton hospital. He said he was concerned that the needs of Livermore residents not be overlooked.

Loveless is an outspoken opponent of the Pleasanton facility. She is not convinced a competing hospital would occasion the dire consequences the board predicts.

"There should be more Association input into the final decision," said Loveless. "The board so far has been very vague about what kind of hospital will be built in Pleasanton, and what will happen to the Livermore facility."

Members may return ballots by mail. Voting may also be done in person at the hospital's annual meeting, Feb. 19.

The Association is composed of people who donated $100 or more to build the original Livermore hospital. Only Association members may vote in the election.

Likely no Demo vs. Mori

Just two weeks before the declaration of intention period begins, Floyd Mori stands alone in the race for Assembly District 15, a contest that only a year ago drew a field of 15 combatants.

The reluctance of liberals and conservatives alike to mount a challenge to Mori may stem from the fact that "Floyd's done a satisfactory job," as Bill Vandenburg said yesterday.

Vandenburg, a liberal Democrat from Hayward, was one of the candidates in the February primary last year which resulted in a run-off between Democrat Floyd Mori and Republican Guy Puccio in March.

"It's very difficult to unseat an incumbent who hasn't created a furor one way or another," said Vandenburg.

Vandenburg said it didn't appear a challenge would be forthcoming.

Proposition Nine, a campaign reform act which provides for more thorough reporting of campaign contributions, has made fund-raising difficult, said Vandenburg.

"An assembly campaign can cost $35,000 to $40,000, and Proposition Nine has made it difficult to start from scratch," he said.

It is known that Hayward Republican Guy Puccio, defeated handily by Mori last March, incurred a substantial debt in last year's campaign.

Puccio said the chances were "less than fifty-fifty" he would run this year.

Assemblyman Mori has declared his intention to run for reelection, and will file declaration of intention papers when the period begins Feb. 2.

All State Assembly and municipal court judge candidates must file a declaration of intention statement with the County Registrar from Feb. 2 to Feb. 11.

Candidates must then file a declaration of candidacy paper during the nomination period, Feb. 17 to March 12.

Yesterday was the first day to take out "petition in lieu of filing fee" papers.

The County Registrar may waive the Assembly candidate filing fee of $232.32 if a candidate collects the signatures of 15,000 registered voters.

If a lesser number of signatures is collected, the fee is reduced on a pro rata basis.

The registrar reported Assemblyman Mori is the only 15th District candidate to have taken out petition papers so far.

The papers must be returned at the start of the declaration of intention period. The filing fee must be paid at that time.

President Dale Chandler and treasurer Phil Gibbons join other members of the Youth Advisory Committee in a game of table-soccer. The group meets every Wednesday at Shannon Center to plan activities for teenagers.

Advisory group

Teen help their goal

DUBLIN — Here's a story for people who complain they don't hear any good news anymore.

Every Wednesday night a group of about 25 teenagers gets together at Shannon Park Community Center to plan programs of interest to teens throughout the Dublin-San Ramon area.

The newly-formed group calls itself the San Ramon-Dublin Youth Advisory Committee. Teens in the group, open to anyone who wants to attend, have come up with a list of activities they'd like to plan and items they want to buy for the teen center.

Shelly Stein, recreation leader three and coordinator of women's and teens' activities, said the group plans to hold fund-raisers a few times a month.

The first, a car wash, will be held Jan. 24 at the Arco Station on Village Parkway and Amador Valley Road in Dublin.

"The kids have a lot of suggestions and ideas for what they'd like to do, but they know how expensive everything has gotten," said Stein, adding that it costs $285 to hire a bus for 40 people. "By raising money to put into the teen fund, they can afford to take the overnight ski and backpacking trips they'd like," she said.

Some of the fund-raising activities include a spaghetti feed, a "battle of the bands," and showing matinee films for young children one Saturday a month.

The committee has suggested starting a girls slim-trim class, a teens bingo night, excursions to concerts and trips to the ocean.

Stein said the committee is open to any teens who want to join. "We won't turn anyone away," she said.

Call the VCSA recreation office at Shannon Center, 828-7711, for more information.

Palmist legal city attorney tells Pleasanton

PLEASANTON — City Attorney Ken Scheidig holds firm to his opinion that a palmist planning to tell fortunes in the city is legally within his rights.

Planning Commission Chairman Walt Wood criticized Scheidig's interpretation of the city's anti-palmistry ordinance last week. The ordinance bans palmistry done for "fees, salary or other compensation" and that does not exclude palmistry done for a free will donation, said Scheidig.

"If a donation isn't compensation, I don't know what is," Wood told fellow commissioners last week.

Scheidig was not present at the meeting — Assistant City Attorney Harvey Levine sat in for him — and he explained his interpretation yesterday.

"Compensation means that a person expects to get paid for doing a service. Donation means that you can give a service and compensation is not expected, though a person may give monetary remuneration to the person providing the service," said Scheidig.

Asked about the alleged First Amendment rights of a palmist, whether in business or doing it for a donation, Scheidig had no comment.

Marshall Krause, who has handled palmistry cases for the American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California, told The Times last week that in his opinion palmists, astrologers and the like have the right to free speech and communication under the First Amendment.

Wood was firm last week at the meeting about the issue. He felt that either Scheidig should change his opinion about the ordinance's interpretation or the city council should rephrase the ordinance's language so that even palmistry for a donation should be outlawed.

Wood was acting in response to a Los Angeles resident who has bought a home in Pleasanton and intends to practice palmistry here. He said yesterday that the Funk and Wagnalls dictionary bears out his interpretation of "compensation," but if he wants the city council's opinion.

"Scheidig said in a letter to us that the intention of the ordinance was to keep out palmistry. We are asking the city council if that's the still the city's intention (the ordinance was passed in 6-1966)," said Wood.

Asked about his opinion whether the ordinance violates a palmist's free speech rights, Wood said that he didn't know. He respects Krause as an expert in his field, but noted that his interpretation conflicted with Scheidig's view.

Correction

Sunday's page one story in The Times entitled "Tragic crash ends wedding" was incorrect in stating that Susan Eileen Hahn was on her way to Walnut Creek to pick out bridesmaids dresses for her upcoming wedding. Hahn was, in fact, en route to Walnut Creek to visit a doctor, and was going to attend a bridesmaids show in San Francisco later that night, when the tragic accident occurred. The Times regrets any inconvenience caused by the error.

Judge papers out

Attorney Burke Critchfield became the first to take out papers yesterday for the vacant Livermore-Pleasanton municipal court seat.

Yesterday was the first day of a special period in which judgeship candidates who don't wish to pay the full $416 filing fee may circulate a petition for office instead. If a candidate obtains 1,667 names, he or she won't have to pay the filing fee. Obtaining a proportion of the required figures will write off part of the required fee.

In the second period, Feb. 2 to Feb. 11, candidates must file their intentions of candidacy. The third period, Feb. 17 to March 12, is the filing period. Candidates can't file in the filing period unless they first filed in the declaration of intention of candidacy "declaration of intention" period.

There has been talk that if Governor Jerry Brown appoints a judge before Feb. 2, the appointee won't have to face an election in June. This conclusion is based on reports in a Los Angeles legal newspaper which talked to an official in the Brown administration.

The Times has not been able to get a clarification of the issue from the Brown administration. Alameda County Registrar of Voters James Riggs said he isn't sure whether an appointment prior to Feb. 2 would mean no judgeship election in June.

Riggs has asked the county counsel for an opinion and he expects one before Feb. 2. The state Attorney General would be the top official to rule on the question, but the Attorney General's office has not made a ruling, said Riggs.

If there will be an election for judge, several candidates can be expected to file. Critchfield's law partners Jack Noonan and Mark Eaton reportedly are being considered by Brown for an appointment. Whether they would run in an election against their law partner is another question. Attorneys David Harris, Earl Odell and Joseph Schwab are also interested in the position.

Murray candidates air views tonight

DUBLIN — The six candidates for the Murray school board opening on the March 2 ballot will present their views at a "Candidates Night" scheduled this evening at 7:30 at Nielsen School, 7800 Amarillo Rd.

Sponsored by the Nielsen School PTAs, candidates have been invited to make 10-minute presentations followed by questions from the audience.

Those seeking the seat formerly held by Joanne Bascom include Harrietta Dahlin, Art Laursen, Linda Jeffery, Dawn Rutter, Eugene Hinton and Dr. Harry Overline.

Hinton and Rutter previously ran for seats on the Murray board while Laursen is a former Murray trustee. Mrs. Jeffery is an officer in a statewide police officers wives organization. Overline is a professor of education at Cal State Hayward and Mrs. Dahlin has been active in school and community affairs.

The successful candidate March 2 will serve through March of 1977.

The Murray board decided last December, after Mrs. Bascom's resignation, to continue as a four-person board until the March election. They had the option of appointing someone immediately or waiting until the March ballot.

Also on the March ballot is a $1 million bond issue. The bond will require a two-thirds majority vote and would authorize the district to sell bonds in order to complete the seventh - eighth grade school planned for the Dolan site in Silver-gate. Although formation of the redevelopment district and its plan were covered by the press, many in the community felt the city staff was to blame for "trying to put something over" on the community by a so-called lack of information.

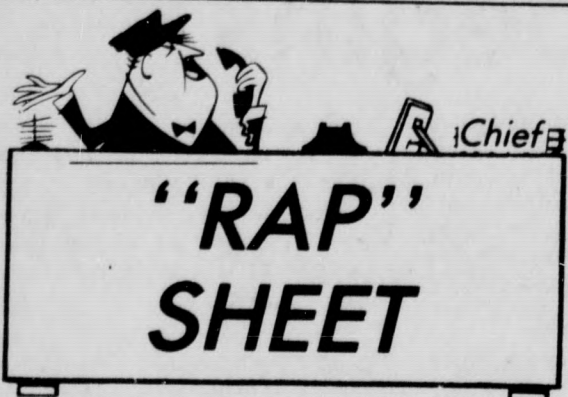

Discussing the goal of citizen participation in the plan the staff's report proposes that the city use citizens' committees to advise the city council on "all important community development matters."

The city should work closely with homeowners associations, the chamber of commerce and other business organizations on issues of mutual concern, said the staff.

Other general policy goals recommended by the staff are: a growth management plan in which growth is a logical extension of existing development; protection of the environmental qualities of the planning area; encouragement of commercial and industrial development; identification of manmade and natural hazards and minimization of their effects on development; preservation and rehabilitation of historical buildings; promotion of a balanced transportation system, and provision of adequate public facilities.

On the question of public facilities Harris said the city will need $35 million worth of capital improvements by 1996 when the population reaches 48,000. There is no way the city will catch up to the $35 million goal, said Harris.

Man arrested for selling hot CB transceivers

PLEASANTON — Acting on a tip by citizen band radio operators, members of the Strategic Team Enforcement Program (STEP) arrested a San Jose man and reportedly found more than $2,000 in stolen CB equipment in his home last week.

Undercover police arranged to buy equipment from the man in Pleasanton and discovered the units to be stolen. Steve Tibol Mikes, 20, was arrested and booked on investigation of possession of stolen property. The STEP unit is composed of Livermore Police Officers Don Lee and Dave Hollander, and Pleasanton Police Officer Jim Balch. Begun in 1974 as a crime prevention program under a federal grant, STEP members pool resources and knowledge to solve burglaries in the valley.

Burglars met by surprised resident

PLEASANTON — Police are looking for three Mexican male adults who attempted to burglarize a Golden Road apartment last week but were met at the door by the man who lived there. Gary Alan Campbell told police he heard someone knock on the door while he was talking on the phone. After the third knock, he hung up the phone and grabbed the doorknob just as the door flew open.

Two men, obviously surprised by Campbell's presence, said they were looking for "Gonzales." The men then quickly walked to a waiting car with its engine running and a third man at the wheel.

Campbell looked down and saw the doorknob broken with several pry marks around the edge. Police are looking for a green 1965 Chevrolet as the getaway car in the case.

Livermore High School students arrested

LIVERMORE — Three Livermore High School students were arrested after police found the trio apparently under the influence of narcotics behind Leahy Square Friday afternoon.

Off. Richard Davies said one youth was laying on the ground attempting to vomit, while another was "leaning against the fence attempting to stand up with very little success." The third "seemed to have a hard time focusing on anything," the officer said.

The youths reportedly admitted smoking a crystal joint, which is PCP (horse tranquilizer) sprinkled on marijuana and rolled into a cigarette.

One youth was taken to Valley Memorial Hospital for observation due to his condition. All were booked on suspicion of being under the influence of a narcotic and released to their parents on notices to appear in court.

Arrest in stolen motorcycle discovery

LIVERMORE — A 16-year-old Livermore youth had to be physically subdued by police after he ran from his house when police discovered a stolen motorcycle in his backyard.

A Granada High School student noticed his friend's stolen motorcycle being pushed into a yard by an unknown youth. The witness called police who spoke to the suspect's father and found the boy had apparently fallen asleep from intoxication.

Police found the stolen motorcycle in the backyard. As Off. Daniel O'Donnell was pushing the cycle out the front gate, the suspect bolted out the front door, knocked down Reserve Off. Robert Weston and ran down the street.

O'Donnell ran after the boy, finally slowing his pace by throwing a flashlight at him. The two scuffled momentarily before O'Donnell snapped handcuffs on the suspect.

PHYLLIS LYNN

Phyllis Lynn

A well-traveled teacher

(This is the eleventh in a continuing series on The Classroom Teacher, featuring elementary and high school teachers in the Pleasanton, Murray, San Ramon and Amador districts)

PLEASANTON — Phyllis Lynn's classroom has extended from Council Bluffs, Iowa to Mildenhall in England, with interludes of varying length in Manteca, the ghetto schools of San Francisco and suburbia as typified by San Lorenzo and Pleasanton.

A native of Iowa, she presently brings her teaching skills and globe-trotting background to a third grade classroom at Vintage Hills School.

The attractions of the valley have doubtlessly conspired to keep her settled into one location — this being Phyllis' third year at Vintage Hills and ninth year in the district.

She first taught after two years of college at an elementary school in Council Bluffs, then returned to the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley to obtain a degree in Elementary Education.

Heeding the advice of the community's namesake, Horace Greeley, Mrs. Lynn headed farther west, teaching at Manteca for one year.

Then it was off to merry old England and a school on base at Mildenhall Air Force Base. After a three year stint, she yearned for stateside again and took-up teaching duties at an elementary school at Mather Air Force Base, located near Folsom. Mrs. Lynn taught at the Folsom district school for three years, also.

One of the major challenges of her career followed, when she commenced substitute teaching duties with the San Francisco Unified School District — instructing a class in Hunters Point or Bayview one day and in the Sunset or Presidio Heights the next.

After three years in "The City," Mrs. Lynn then associated with the San Lorenzo School District, and then came to Walnut Grove School where she taught fourth grade in the inaugural year of the Black Avenue elementary school.

She then taught fourth and fifth grade classes at Valley View for the next five years, and moved over to Vintage Hills 2½ years ago when that school opened in temporary quarters.

A champion of individuality, she believes each school should work together to provide the very best educational experiences possible for a child.

"It kind of bugs me that you have to give a name to a program — everybody is different and I believe each school should work together with the child as the focal point, understanding that each is different.

"Since Vintage Hills is so small, the staff here is very close and we work together," the vivacious veteran teacher comments.

There are now eight classrooms at the Pleasanton district's newest school. The lunch room is where the Stiegel (a motor development improvement apparatus) was last year. The cafeteria and storage rooms have been converted into classrooms.

Mrs. Lynn verifies the supportiveness of parents in the community by noting her field trip schedule.

"We take many field trips, and all arrangements for transportation have been made by Barbara Smyth," adds Mrs. Lynn. Her third graders have been to the Bufano exhibit at Fremont Civic Center, to a performance of the "Nutcracker" in Oakland, and the sewage treatment plant here in Pleasanton.

She sends home a calendar each month with trips listed, plus all activities to be participated in by the class.

A tea is held at the end of the school year to thank parent volunteers.

And if the number of projects visible on the school grounds or noted by Mrs. Lynn or teaching vice principal Phyllis Clark is any indication, its probably one of the biggest social functions of the year!

Gretchen Lyle

Gretchen Carol Lyle, 17, died Saturday in a traffic accident U.S. Highway 50 in Sacramento.

She was a Granada High School senior and a member of the tennis and fencing teams, and the Livermore Softball Association.

A native of Indiana, she had lived in California for 12 years.

She is survived by her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Lyle, her brother Chris; her grandfather Walter Boeck; and her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haske, all of Livermore.

Also survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lyle of Clearwater, Florida.

Friends may call at the Livermore Mortuary, 3073 East Ave., Tuesday evening from 6 to 9 p.m. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the Garden Chapel of Livermore Mortuary. Rev. Norman Callaway will officiate. Private interment will follow at a later date in Memory Gardens Cemetery, Livermore.

Memorial contributions

Susan Hahn

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, for Susan Hahn, 19, who died Thursday in a traffic accident on Interstate Highway 680 near Danville-Alamo.

She was a 1974 graduate of Dublin High School and a 12 year resident of the valley.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hahn of Pleasanton; a brother, Randall and sister-in-law Linda of Livermore, and her fiancé, Jerry Stone of Pleasanton. Funeral services will be held in St. Phillips Lutheran Church, Dublin, with the Rev. Hilton Schlecht officiating.

Private family burial services at Memory Gardens Cemetery will follow the funeral. Friends are invited to the church services only.

Contributions in her name may be made to the Susan Hahn Spirit Award Memorial, c/o Robert Haker, Dublin High School.

Larger pipeline urged

PLEASANTON — The city should safeguard its commercial and industrial future by considering a little bigger LAVWA pipeline, Councilman Robert Philcox said last week.

Philcox brought up the item briefly at the end of the council meeting and there was little comment at the time. He expanded on his idea later for The Times.

Livermore already has brought up the idea of reserving a million gallons of sewage treatment capacity for industrial and commercial uses. Apparently they abandoned the idea when they learned that the federal government won't fund any extra sewage capacity. The extra increment would have to be paid out of local funds.

"Livermore was talking about a million gallons of capacity for industry and commercial. I think we could consider up to 200,000 gallons for Pleasanton. I have no idea whether the federal government would fund it. It may be worth funding it ourselves," said Philcox.

The federal government will give funds only for existing population and growth projected over the next 20 years. Livermore tried to argue that creation of more local industry and commerce would allow local residents to end their commuting and work locally, reducing the amount of locally-produced smog.

Alameda County Bicentennial Commission

Commission puts it all together in 1976

By REINA WHITNEY
"The Bicentennial is Alive in Alameda County" — thanks to the dynamic executive director of the Alameda County Bicentennial Commission, Marie Cronin.

Well-known by local people who have worked with her on a long list of community projects, she now has historic Old St. Raymond's in Dublin (official office site for the county) buzzing with fervent activity. She daily oversees volunteers busily stuffing envelopes, folding a myriad of informational materials that outline the many projects already underway under Marie's guidance.

So impressive has been her bicentennial newsletter outlining the ongoing work of the commission that she has already been singled out as example for other commissions in the state to follow. The three communities of Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore along with 22 other Alameda communities, under Marie's leadership, have met the national criteria of worthwhile, long-lasting programs in each of the three national themes: Heritage '76 (the past), Festival USA (the present), and Horizons '76 (the future).

Answering the summons to recall and commemorate our heritage and place it in its historical perspective for Heritage '76, are notable projects in each of the valley communities.

Dublin has already organized a heritage association to restore the historic Murray School and hopes to include it next to the almost totally restored Old St. Raymond's Church as the beginning of a possible heritage center for Dublin. With the help of interested Pleasantonites, Dublin hopes to include the restoration of the Fallon House within the center.

Pleasanton's Century House Museum project will also comply with a heritage theme along with the local bicentennial commission plans to place historical site plaques throughout the community.

Livermore is also busy on a restoration program of the Old May School sponsored by the Livermore Heritage Guild, also trying to develop a Livermore History Center with the cooperation of the Livermore Bicentennial Organization. These two groups also worked together in the printing of a creditable book on the DeAnza expedition and are busy preparing an index to the historical records of the Livermore area.

Every six months Marie Cronin's Alameda commission publishes a book-will celebrate 200 years of freedom, conduct public tours of the building explaining the way the judicial system will be served, present the history of Hayward and the local area.

The restoration of Mission San Jose in the Fremont area is another project of which Marie is very proud, because it ful-Road, 6 a.m., March 31, 1976. Everyone is invited to participate and follow the expedition on its route. Contact your local bicentennial commission for complete details (828-7476).

Every point at which DeAnza encamped during the original expedition 200 years ago will be commemorated by beautiful bronze plaques especially prepared for the occasion which declare: "Lt. Colonel Juan Bautista De Anza by decree of Carlos III of Spain led an expedition to this site — the mission being to colonize the San Francisco bay area."

The first of these plaques in Alameda County will be dedicated at Mission San Jose, March 31 with an official welcome planned by the Mayor of Fremont, city, community and special representatives from religious and historical societies. Padre John Williams of Mission San Jose will officially dedicate the plaque and bless the DeAnza expedition.

Since this will be close to the noon hour, box lunches will be available at $2 for the public present. The expedition will then depart Mission San Jose at 12:30 p.m. with plans to arrive at Hayward city limits by 2 p.m. all horsemen in costume, many local ranchers represented.

Another plaque will then be dedicated by Mayor Weinreb of Hayward on the site officially designated as Campsite No. 98 on what will now be known as "Centennial Plaza."

April 1, the expedition will end its way to San Lorenzo, San Leandro, Mills College in Oakland through the Berkeley hills to finally enter triumphantly into an official gala welcome planned at Golden Gate Fields Grandstand in between races.

The advent of DeAnza within our county lines will be celebrated by an extravaganza planned by the Mexican - American community April 2 and 3 at the Paramount Theater, Oakland, featuring Hollywood stars and ballet folklorico.

As part of the local celebration, the Ballet Folklorico from Chabot College will perform at the Livermore High School auditorium at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, April 4. From 3:30 to 7 p.m. the same day, a DeAnza festival will be held at The Barn in Livermore and will include a barbecue, Mexican entertainment and Charros. At 5 p.m. the DeAnza party will arrive from Campsite No. 102 at Corral Hollow where another plaque will be officially installed commemorating the night De Anza camped within the Livermore area during his historic trek.

You can well understand why our Bicentennial Chairperson, Marie Cronin, is busy these days planning for all these upcoming events. Even so, this dedicated mother of three, wife of local rancher, John Cronin, has plans to install an oversized flag pole and American flag from a vantage point, at her hillside home overlooking Highway 580. A light will display it during the evening hours as well.

Patriotic planting

As you plan to mark the bicentennial, you can create a celebration which will still be happening long after the brass bands and bunting are gone. The secret is planting. You can honor the past by planting and for the future. Colorful ground cover or shrubs in hues of red, white and blue to enrich the landscape for the bicentennial year. Trees of all types, dedicated to our nation's founding, to drop roots and spread their shade for future generations. A free idea brochure offers suggestions for a colorful bicentennial garden, as well as tips on planting. It's available at the Alameda County Bicentennial Commission office. Old St. Raymond's Church, Dublin.

Let listing all 189 bicentennial projects underway in the county. According to Marie, "We have more projects than any other county in California."

Most notable among these projects is the new Hall of Justice being constructed in Hayward to serve Alameda County. This building will be coordinated by the Alameda County Art Commission which will see that the public using the building is afforded a great opportunity to view fine art in an atmosphere of interest and beauty as the county offers "Justice for all in Century III."

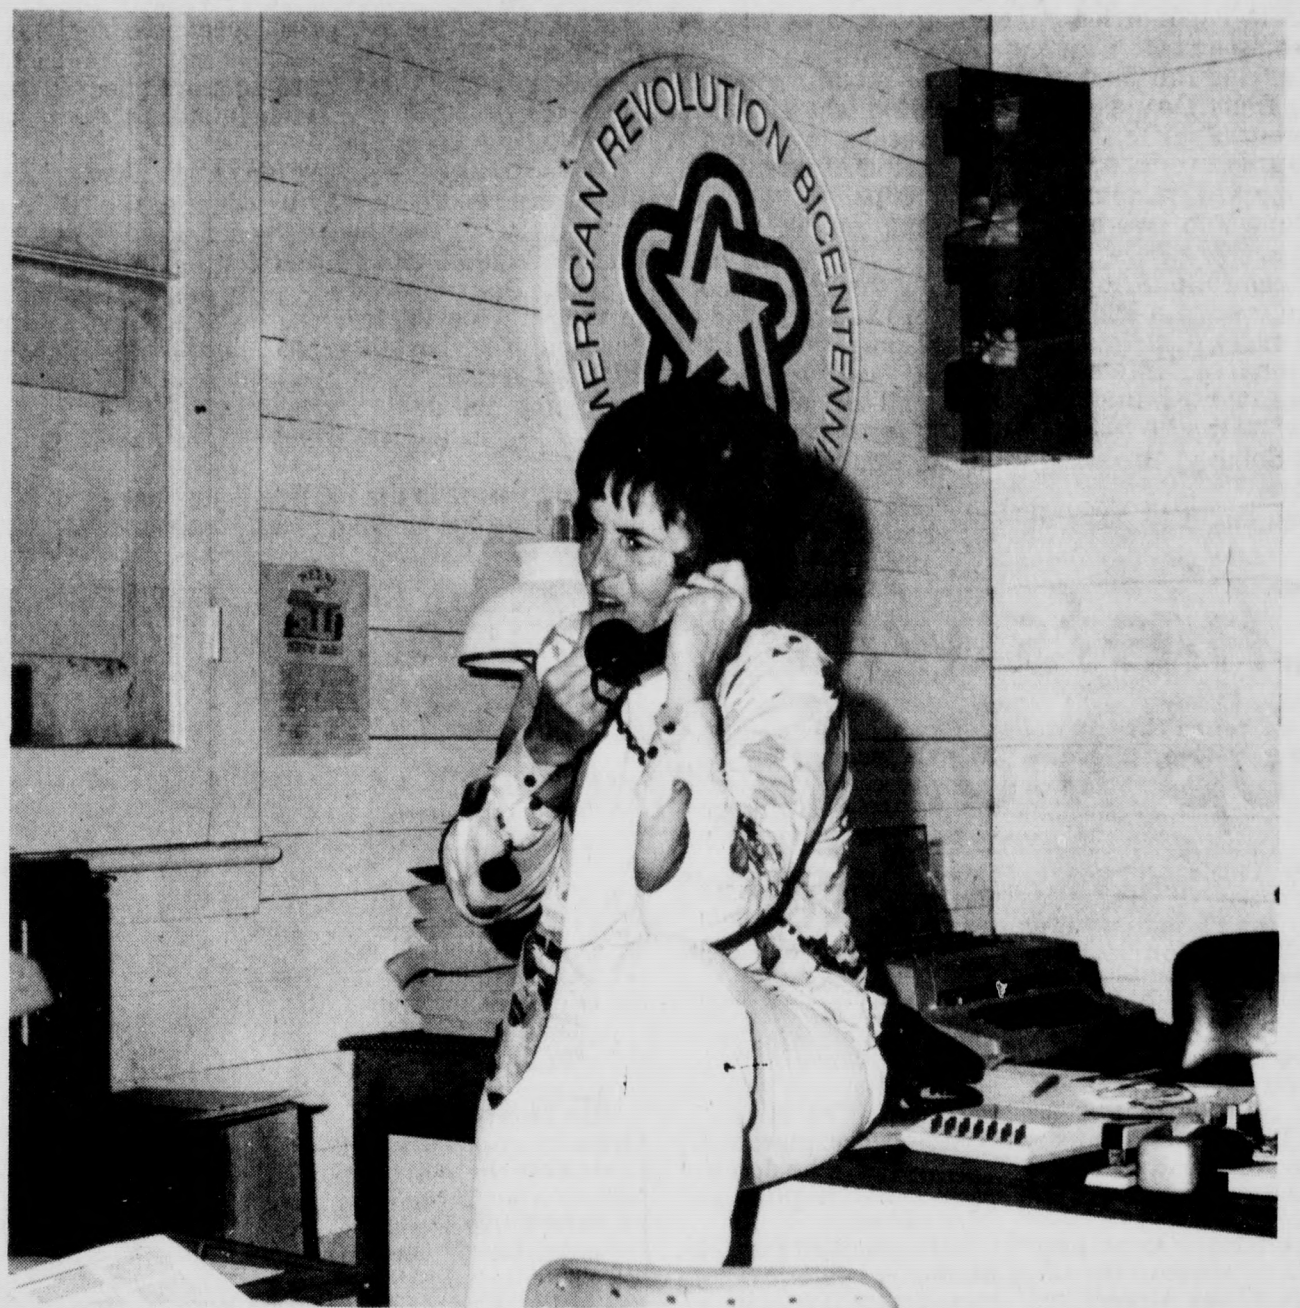

The bicentennial dedication, planned for mid-1976, fills the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration's (ARBA) wish for programs that will bring people of many ethnic backgrounds closer together in appreciation of our mutual rich diversity. The special committee that has come together for the restoration of the old California Mission built in 1797, plans to have fiestas throughout the year representing the various ethnic groups and their contributions to mission and California history by active demonstrations and displays, including Indian, Mexican and Portuguese cultural arts.

It completely fulfills the Heritage, Festival and Horizons portion of the Commission because the completed project will be a living resource for students. The buildings with rooms and gardens portraying the lives of the people touched by the founding fathers and the early settlers will be a source of knowledge and pride for all to visit Mission San Jose in the centuries to come.

These, in addition to the restoration of the Camron-Stanford house in Oakland, the planting of redwood seedling "Liberty Trees" in every county high school, and many more are all projects worthy of great pride to Marie Cronin, her able staff and all the people throughout the county giving of their time, talent and efforts to see these projects completed.

A highlight of the bicentennial year in Alameda will be countywide participation in the De Anza expedition which is, even now, being reenacted along its original route, making its way up to our county line. It began in Mexico City, Aug. 14, 1975, with Marie Cronin among those present to see the expedition launch this historic trek. It will arrive in Alameda County at Santa Clara County line, Warm Springs

Marie Cronin of Dublin, Executive Director of the Alameda County Bicentennial Commission, foot on chair, pensive stare, strikes a typical pose as she takes still another phone call in a day filled with hundreds of phone calls. The Bicentennial Logo stands guard behind her desk, cluttered with endless planning details for events.

Bronze plaques, in the outline form of the state of California, will be dedicated and installed at all the sites in Alameda County where Lt. Col. Bautista de Anza encamped along his historic trek in 1776. Commemoration will be of special interest to local valleyites when the plaque is dedicated at Corral Hollow, April 4, site of Campsite No. 102, located in the Livermore hills in the area of a town known as Tesla, no longer in existence. Many local horsemen will participate in the ride into Livermore which will culminate in a gala fiesta at "The Barn" complete with Mexican entertainment, barbecue and charros.

Steak and Enchiladas

$3.95 Wednesday night.

Something very special is happening on Wednesday night at the Hungry Hunter Restaurant. Steak and enchiladas. For only $3.95, you get a juicy steak, two cheese enchiladas, salad and coffee, tea or milk. The steak is choice top sirloin, and the enchiladas are superbly made in the Mexican manner. Drop into the Hungry Hunter Restaurant on Wednesday night. We think you'll agree that this is the best dinner deal in town. In fact, we'll stake our enchiladas on it.

Dana excels, South wins

After five consecutive defeats, the South rose again to crush the North, 288-228 Sunday in the Pacific Association All-Star swim meet at San Francisco State University.

Easing the hurt of the North squad, however, was Dana Davidson of Pleasanton who swam to another Pacific Association Record, a national age-group record, and to the brink of qualifying for the AAU national championships.

Dana won two individual events for the North, and anchored a winning relay.

Meanwhile, Andy Bota, making the first appearance ever of a Pleasanton Swim Club member in this meet, finished third in his only race with a personal lifetime best time.

Because it had never won the all-star dual meet previously, the South geared up for a supreme effort Sunday, throwing all of its weapons into the water.

Leading the assault was Olympic champion

Shirley Babashoff, who won two freestyle races and anchored a freestyle relay victory Butterfly specialist Valerie Lee also accounted for three South victories.

Their performances were no more spectacular, however, than those of Dana Davidson, from Nor Cal Aquatics in Dublin.

Dana picked up her seventh American age-group record Sunday by winning the 200 freestyle in 1:55.0. That broke the old standard of 1:55.14 established by Eva Kosenkranius in 1974.

Young Dana also set a Pacific Association mark in winning the 100 free with a 54.1 time. Sandra Johnson of Arden Hills had held the old record of 54.70 since 1971.

Capping the day's work, Dana churned a 53.27 anchor leg in the 400 free relay to pace a North victory.

Her 54.1 time in the 100 free is just barely off the qualifying mark needed to enter the national AAU championships later this year Nor Cal coach Bill Radley said yesterday there is no doubt Dana will qualify.

Her time in the all-star race was also just slightly slower than Jill Sterkel's national age-group mark of 53.79. That too is within Dana's grasp, Radley said.

Andy Bota, setting a precedent for Pleasanton Swim Club members in the all-star competition, finished third in the 50 freestyle with a time of 26.3, a lifetime best. Two south teammates edged out Andy, with the winning time a 25.6.

"His turn wasn't as good as we hoped for, otherwise we could have had it," said coach Doug Reyes "For the first time, I heard Andy say he was nervous before the meet."

Among other competitors, Nor Cal's Jan Davidson placed third in the 50 freestyle with a 25.5 time Vicki Davidson swam a 2:25 in the 200 individual medley.

Spartans top Bruins

With a balanced scoring attack the Spartans opened another Dublin Youth Basketball Association season last weekend by topping the Bruins, 43-36.

Three players scored 10 points for the winners, including Danny Scott, Jim Christenson and Scott Tattman.

Brun Mike Major was high scorer with 18 points.

The Trojans bopped the Dons, 44-32, behind Doug Daugherty's 30 points. Gregg Bustamante had 14 points in a losing cause.

The Bears raced in front of the Aggies by 13 points after one quarter and breezed to a 58-40 victory. Paul Mangini scored 17 and Kurt Vollbrecht, 14. Cam Whitty had 11. Jack Stevens of the Aggies had 10 points.

In the 11-12 division, the Wildcats outscored the Cadets by nine points in the fourth quarter for a 29-15 victory. Henry VonFriesen and Kevin Jones played well defensively. David Snyder scored 16 points.

The Falcons ripped the Longhorns, 45-18, behind Toby McFarlane's 25 points. Mark Miller had 10. For the losers, Jeff McKudn scored six.

The Sooners received 15 points each from Bill Calender and Dan Bynum to rock the Hoosiers, 32-23. Phil Hampton of the Hoosiers scored seven.

Balanced Bulldog scoring trimmed the Razorbacks, 25-21. Steve Badger, Joe Garlington and Bob Rollins of the winners accounted for 21 points.

The Sundevils shut out the Beavers in the third quarter, then survived a fourth-quarter comeback attempt to win, 29-27.

For the Devils, Vince Orosco had eight points, Aaron Harmon, seven, and Robbie Maser, six. Beaver Mark Zika scored 11.

Strong Huskie defense held the Wolverines to two points at halftime, and accounted for a 35-22 victory. Jeff Souza paced the winners with 11 points and Jim Peterson had eight. For the losers, Rod Washburn scored 14.

Tight Warrior defense blitzed the Pistons, 26-8. Jeff Cunningham scored 14 points, and Keith Malatesta, eight.

Mats fall to 13

Granada High has tumbled nearly from sight, but Amador Valley has reappeared in the East Bay prep basketball poll.

The Matadors fell from sixth to 13th place this morning by virtue of two setbacks last week in the EBAL.

Amador, one of the teams to whip the Matadors, earned honorable mention for a pair of victories. The Dons lead the league with a 4-0 mark. Granada is at 2-2.

The Dons were eighth-rated in the pre-season poll, but dropped quickly out of the picture with a 2-6 exhibition schedule.

The Matadors have been highly ranked all season long, but suffered defeats

That gym is still a gym — 'girls' or not

DANVILLE — It may not be called the San Ramon High School's girls' gym anymore, but it will remain a gym.

"We'd end up with something possibly a little better, but develop another conflict — scheduling between physical education and performing arts," said school principal James Henderson.

"It was the unanimous decision of the physical education and performing arts departments and a steering committee that we spend a small amount of money and upgrade the lighting and storage in the Little Theatre and the rest (spent on) upgrading the gym."

Some money will go toward upgrading fire standards so the small gym can be used for assemblies, dances and other activities.

If there's money left over, it will be used to re-do the exterior of the building once called the girls' gym, but now known as the small gym.

The cost to renovate the gym has been estimated at $78,000. The estimate on fixing the outside to blend with the rest of the buildings is $10,000 to $12,000.

Most of the board members agreed something had to be done so the five different types of architecture are not so pronounced.

Trustee Jane Upp, however, disagreed with plans to put wood sliding on the gym to make it look more like the rest of the buildings.

She said the architecture of the building gave the school character and should be retained.

Twin bill festivities for two chambers of commerce

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE for Livermore and for Pleasanton had back-to-back festivities at Castlewood Country Club as business and civic leaders from the two cities staged a Friday-Saturday twin bill that was rated a "200 percent success."

Pleasanton Chamber got things rolling with its Friday night affair that also doubled as "Community Development Awards Night" to salute a host of 1975 workers. Four of those awards (all of them were listed in Sunday's TIMES) went to individuals, and those presentations proved to be the highlight of the evening.

It also marked the end-of-term address for Ben Fernandez, who served as chamber president during "a very busy, and never dull year." Merle Telford was installed to head up a new slate of officers for 1976. Warren Harding served both as emcee and as installing officer.

LIVERMORE CHAMBER laid heavy emphasis on an entertaining evening for 285 guests who came to salute a change of guard, dine on Cornish game hen, and then stick around to dance to the delightful music of Don Vaca and his Versatiles.

Marshall Kamena had a few brief remarks in extending his thanks "to all of those who worked with me in the past year," and Bill Manis was equally succinct in accepting the president's gavel from Kamena for the year ahead.

Bruce Sizelove came up from Los Angeles to rejoin his many Livermore business acquaintances, and to serve as emcee and installing officer.

Two presidents shared the Saturday night fun at Castlewood when Bill Manis (l) took the oath of office for the Livermore Chamber presidency, while accepting congratulations from Merle Telford (r), who was installed as president of the Pleasanton Chamber in Friday night's program.

Judge William H. Gale was cited as "An Outstanding Citizen of 1975" by the Pleasanton Community Development Committee. Judge Gale's award came at the climax of his long term on the Pleasanton and Livermore bench.

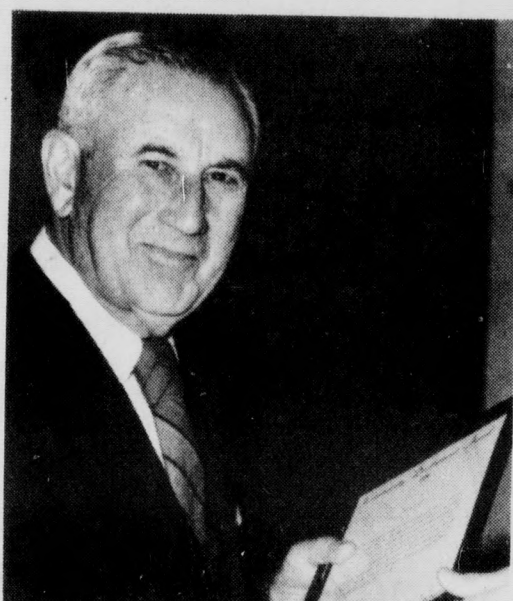

Louise and Arch Clausnitzer shared this happy moment as one of two couples given chamber citations for "a quarter century of service to their community." It was highlight of Friday's program for the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

Freida and Bob Steffenauer shared a happy but tearful moment as they were surprised with a citation "for the love they have shown their fellow-man, their community and their country."

Photos of Livermore dinner by Peter Griffith

John J. Amaral was saluted for his 50th year of continuous service to Pleasanton. Amaral has filled countless community roles throughout that half century.

Pleasanton chamber photos by Peter Bailey

Ben Fernandez managed a few fast quips on "a year that was never dull" as he closed out his year as president of the Pleasanton Chamber. The gift he accepted for that year of service is a framed grouping of five Pleasanton scenes chosen for the community's Bicentennial program.

The emcee and the maid got together for this pose during the Livermore Chamber gala at Castlewood. Bruce Sizelove came up from Los Angeles to serve as emcee for the Saturday rites, and was joined at the head table by Terri Groshong, the reigning Maid of Livermore.

Two years of community service were captured in this gathering. Marshall Kamena (l) shared a busy year as Livermore Chamber of Commerce president with his wife, and Mrs. William Manis will play an active role in the 1976 presidency of Bill Manis. Both men spoke briefly at the Saturday evening installation rites.

The most important part of slam bidding should take place below the game level. Once you go past game you should know that you have the ammunition or point count to warrant a slam and that you are going to bid a slam if you determine that the defenders aren't going to take the first two tricks against you.

After North's four-spade bid, South expects to have no trouble making a slam if the defense doesn't start off by

For Tuesday, Jan. 20, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You're likely to have to contend with a heavier workload than usual today. Pace yourself wisely to minimize stress.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Be very selective as to whom you chum around with socially today. Avoid those with a penchant for making scenes.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Don't skim over important situations today. Things swept under the rug may later surface.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Nothing advantageous will be gained today by trying to impose unpopular ideas on unwilling listeners.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Put a lock and key on the old money belt today, or you could impulsively spend beyond your means. Be prudent.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You may feel like you're being pulled in all directions today. Chances are you will be if you allow others to overly influence you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Be careful today about making commitments too far in advance. Try to clear up things facing you first.

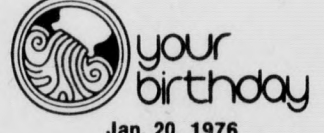

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Steer a middle course today if you find yourself among persons with conflicting views. Arbitrate. Don't take sides.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
The means will not justify the ends today. Don't use methods to advance your aims that could tarnish your image.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You may be tempted today to poke your nose into a situation that has no direct bearing on you. It could cause some friction.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Make haste slowly today in any transactions where there is something of material value at stake.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Stall for time today if you feel you're being pressed to make decisions you're unsure of. Regroup so you can weigh the issues.

your birthday Jan. 20, 1976

This coming year should be an extremely active one for you. For best chances of success don't let your priorities overlap one another.

Ask the Jacobys

A Georgia reader says that he was severely criticized for responding two spades to his partner's one-heart bid. His hand was:

♠ A K 8 3 2 ♥ A K x x x ♦ x ♣ x

We would not criticize him severely for that two-spade bid, but we would only respond one spade. We only have 14 high-card points and our singleton is in partner's suit.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

No formal announcement

Irene is 'in the race'

FREMONT — Although she has not made a formal announcement, Irene Vincent told The Times yesterday she is "in the race for County Supervisor all the way."

Vincent said she could not declare her candidacy formally until the clean water issue is settled, referring to her long fight to upgrade water delivered to residents in the Fremont area of Southern Alameda County.

media County.

"The Consumer Affairs Office has said they want to get into this with me. They hope to press for statewide legislation which would clean up the water all over the state," said Vincent.

With the CAO in the fight, Vincent said she hoped to be able to conclude her efforts soon and turn her attention to the County Supervisor's race.

Vincent, a resident of Fremont, joins Valerie Raymond of Livermore in the race against incumbent John Murphy.

Like Raymond, Vincent hoped Murphy will not win a majority of the votes in the June primary, thus forcing a run-off in November.

Not surprisingly, Vincent said the water quality issue would be an important part of her campaign.

"Drinking water is something people in the valley can relate to," she said. Vincent favors raising the drinking water standards statewide.

Window display at Wade's

PLEASANTON — Unveiling of a Bicentennial window display at Warren Wade's, 459 Main St., is scheduled for Tuesday at 11 a.m.

Focus of the window will be a quill pen and ink Bicentennial drawing done by 17-year-old Jim McCabe that will be raffled off. Raffle tickets will be available at Warren Wade's from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Tuesday. Tickets are 50 cents or three for $1.

McCabe's drawing was a prize winner in the recent Bicentennial poster contest.

Half of the proceeds from the raffle will go towards McCabe's college studies in veterinary science. The other portion will be put to the Pleasanton Bicentennial Festival Committee's sponsorship of the Fair parade in June.

Mori report to chamber

PLEASANTON — Assemblyman Floyd Mori will report on the last session of the State Assembly at Tuesday's Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Luncheon meetings are held at the Pleasanton Hotel and commence at 12 noon. Merle Telford is chamber president.

Solar heat must wait

LIVERMORE — As expected, the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District (LARP) board of directors has decided to drop plans to heat the May Nissen Swim Center on Rincon Avenue with solar energy.

The district instead will look to less expensive energy-saving methods.

Introducing the best-paying passbook of any major California bank.

Crocker's been simplifying banking — with longer hours, easy-to-understand forms and other major banking changes. Now we're simplifying savings, too, and making it more rewarding.

Crocker now pays extra interest on most savings plans.

How can your savings earn more at Crocker than at another bank when both pay the same interest rates?

The difference is all in the compounding — the way interest is paid not only on your savings, but also on interest you've already earned. Most major California banks compound only four times a year, so your interest doesn't start earning more interest for up to 90 days.

Crocker now compounds interest daily on regular savings and on all accounts paying from 5½%* to 7½% — so every day's interest starts earning more for you the very next day.

Crocker now pays interest monthly on most savings plans.

Crocker will now pay you your interest monthly on most savings plans.

So if you need more monthly income — to help with budgeting — we'll send you an interest check every month, or put it in your Crocker checking account. Or, of course, you can leave it in your savings and let it grow.

Crocker's first with a 5½% "Start-Up Account" — a new way to build toward even higher interest.

With our new "Start-Up Account," you set your savings goal — either $500 or $1,000 — and reach it with equal monthly deposits over a 10-month period. Then you'll not only have that 5½% interest — best of all, you'll have the minimum deposit needed to move up to one of our even higher interest savings plans!

Crocker's first to put them all together in just one handy passbook.

It's our new Multi-posit Passbook™. It conveniently handles up to 8 different savings plans — paying from 5% up to 7½%.

Wherever you're saving now, bring your old passbooks to any Crocker office. We'll help you put all your savings plans together in your own handy Multi-posit Passbook — the best-paying passbook of any major California bank!

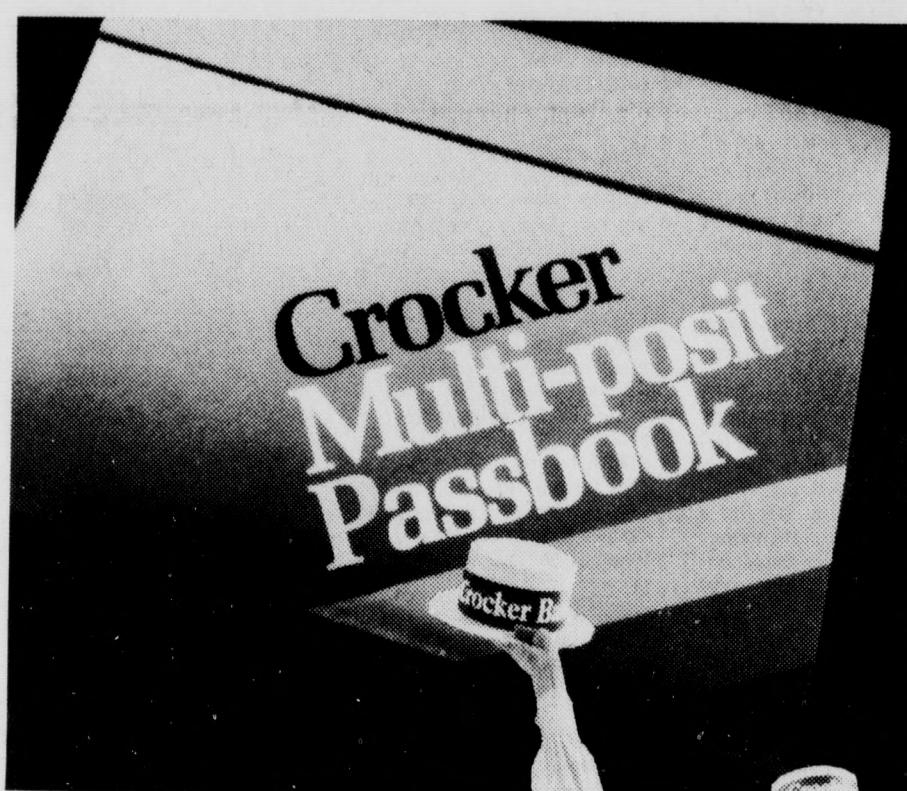

Crocker offers Certificates of Deposit, too — with interest now compounded daily. And checking accounts free of service charges if you keep $2,000 or more in savings.

Crocker's changing banking. Maybe you should change to Crocker.

*Minimum $500 deposit for 3 months.

Minimum $1,000 deposit for 6 years.

Federal regulation requires interest rate reduction to 5%, plus forfeiture of 3 months interest, on any sum withdrawn from a time account before maturity. This could reduce the principal amount of your account if interest has been paid to you previously.

Her specialty is dietetics

LIVERMORE — Carol Garberson of Purdue Way is one of the Bay Area's first dietitians with a private practice.

"I think it's the coming thing," predicts the young UC Berkeley graduate. "So many people are put on special diets — for diabetes, gout, high blood pressure, pregnancy, allergy, heart condition, overweight."

"Yet, the doctors themselves don't know enough about nutrition to do much more than tear an instruction sheet off a pad and say, 'Here — follow this.'"

Most physicians, Carol reveals, have taken only one course on nutrition, or perhaps heard only one lecture on it.

On the other hand, a dietitian's four-year course of study covers a range of information on body processes, metabolism, digestion and chemistry.

To be registered with the American Dietetics Association (ADA) as Carol is, a dietitian must take a required list of courses and pass a stringent exam.

Carol is the Valley's first dietitian who is in private practice, and possibly the Bay Area's fifth.

"I wanted to work with people," she explains. "If you work for a hospital or a nursing home, most of your time is spent in the office writing out menus, not enough talking to your patients and explaining to them what they should do to keep healthy."

She's had her chance to work for institutions. In her one-year internship, Carol wrote regular and special-diet menus and counseled patients at Eden, Fairmont, Highland and Children's Hospitals in Alameda County.

In her new practice, she'll be accepting physicians' referrals and patients who look her up to learn more about some aspect of their diets. She'll also be teaching classes, beginning with a 10-week series of weight reduction classes beginning Jan. 29 at three Valley locations.

She charges $10 for half an hour of counseling. A typical session begins with an interview of the patient to determine a diet history.

Carol will be especially interested in the patient's present eating patterns so she can re-calculate the special diet to fit the individual patient's tastes, habits and pet peeves.

"Let's say your doctor handed you a diet that has milk on it, and you don't drink milk," she explains. "There's no reason why you should eat less. Instead, I can re-calculate it so you can have something else you're used to eating."

Carol points out an individually tailored diet is easier to stick to and therefore has a higher rate of success.

What does all this cost?

She charges $10 a half-hour, with the average appointment varying between half an hour and 90 minutes.

"I can do something simple, say a low-purine diet for gout, in half an hour. A new diabetic, on the other hand, might take an hour and a half."

Carol Garberson: Valley's first private practitioner in dietetics. (Times photo)

Usually there's a follow-up visit in about three weeks to make sure the patient understands and is following his new diet.

Carol found it was surprisingly simple to launch her dietetics practice in her home at 3968 Purdue Way.

She had to get a home business permit ($5) and a business license ($20, based on the amount she expected to earn by July 1, 1976.)

Malpractice insurance was easy and cheap to get, in contrast to physicians who are now paying sky-high rates.

She avoided a lot of legal red tape by naming her business "C.F. Garberson's Nutritional Care Services." By using her own name plus a descriptive phrase, she didn't have to file a legal notice of a fictitious business name.

Further information about the weight reduction classes (10 weeks for $25, evening and daytime hours) and private consultation are available from Mrs. Carol at 443-4297.

'We the People' program in Pleasanton Thursday

"Education and the Future" is the subject of this week's "We the People" program and discussion, the latter open to the public and slated Thursday, Jan. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Pleasanton Presbyterian Church social hall.

The League of Women Voters of the Bay Area has organized and supplied moderators for the meetings. Other principal sponsor is the California Council for the Humanities in Public Policy.

Each public forum will be preceded by a telecast. This week's show on "Education and the Future" will air tonight at 8 p.m. on KPIX, Channel 5.

The television program will examine the pros and cons of alternative courses of action; the public's role in the meetings is to choose among policy alternatives presented in the light of fundamental questions of human values and long-range goals for the future. Ballots for making these choices are included in the information packets and can also be obtained at the meetings.

Each discussion will be opened by an expert in the subject under consideration, followed by a humanist scholar such as a philosopher or historian, to add perspective and to explain the deeper value judgements implied in the questions.

The final telecast and public forum are scheduled for next week and will focus on "Crime and Justice." The TV program is slated for Wednesday, Jan. 28 and the meetings on Thursday, Jan. 29.

De Anza chronicle

Janet Newton, speaking at the San Ramon-Amador Valley Exchange Club Thursday, refers to her newly published work "The de Anza Expedition," a chronicle of the first in-land expedition from Mexico City to the San Francisco Bay in 1776. Her book is on sale at the Historical Center in the Carnegie Building, Livermore and at local bookstores. Groups may request Mrs. Newton to give her slide presentation on the journey by calling the Alameda County Bicentennial Commission, 828-7476.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT TO PURCHASE PROPERTY DECEDED TO THE STATE FOR DELINQUENT TAXES. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN in accordance with the provisions of Division 1, Part 6, Chapter 8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and the written authorization of the State Controller dated January 5, 1976, that an agreement, a copy of which is on file in the office of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County has been made between said Board of Supervisors, and the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, and approved by the State Controller, whereby said County will sell to said Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District under the terms set forth in said agreement all the right, title and interest of the State of California in and to the real property hereinafter described.

That, unless sooner redeemed, the undersigned Tax Collector, pursuant to said agreement will, not less than 21 days after the first publication or the mailing of this notice as required by law, whichever is later, sell said property to the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

That upon the sale of the property the right of redemption will cease. For information as to the amount necessary to redeem apply to FRANK M. KRAUSE, Redemption Officer of Alameda County.

The property referred to and contained in said agreement is situated in the County of Alameda, State of California, and is substantially described as follows:

Act No. 941-205-1-12

Foothill Council members meet

PLEASANTON — The Foothill High School members of the District School-Community Council will meet Monday, Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the school library.

The entire council group has a meeting scheduled Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the District Educational Center on Main Street.

Meeting

Las Positas Women's Golf Club will hold its general meeting Wednesday, Jan. 28, at the Las Positas Golf Course in Livermore, 9 a.m.

Prospective members should attend. Regular play begins Feb. 4. Open guest days are the third Wednesday of each month.

To join, golfers must have handicaps of 40 or less.

For information, call 447-7290, or 447-0946.

Permits cut in half in '75

LIVERMORE — Half as many new buildings were allowed to be constructed during 1975 as 1974 according to the December activity report issued by the city building inspection department.

Permits for a total of 49 new buildings, all single family dwelling units, were granted during 1975 compared to permits for 101 new units during 1974. Of the 101, five were single family dwelling units and 96 units were in the low income Livermore Gardens apartment complex on East Avenue.

Half — 26 — of the 49 units allowed to be constructed in 1975 belong to the Great American Land Development Company for homes in the Greenville North area. (Those lots of record previously had been held by the Kissell Company.)

Permits for four new commercial buildings were issued in 1975 compared to nine permits granted in 1974. The value of the four 1975 permits were put at $669,500; the nine 1974 permits, $3,172,000.

The activity report also indicates permits for three new non-residential units were issued for 1975 (two were issued in 1974); 402 permits for residential add, repair, alter, or demolish (229 in 1974); 66 permits for non-residential add, repair, alter, or demolish (70 in 1974); no new professional permits for either year; one new public permit for 1975 (one for 1974); one new religious institution permit for 1975 (none for 1974), and 456 permits for other new structures (479 for 1979).

The total value of all the permits issued in 1975 amounts to $6,485,550 with the total value in 1974 at $13,376,550.

The activity report also notes that one dwelling unit was eliminated during 1975 and 25 were eliminated in 1974.

Various other permits (plumbing, mechanical, electrical, house moving, signs, building permits, plan check fees and residential building reports) amounted to 4,099 for 1975 and a value of $59,728; for 1974, 3,420 valued at $44,535.

A total of 62 sewer connections valued at $64,563 were granted in 1975; 26 valued at $138,528 in 1974. Also, there were 472 encroachment permits issued in 1975 for a value of $6,500; 531 in 1974 valued at $8,372.

Pleasanton applies for youth grants

PLEASANTON — The city has applied for two Associated Community Action Program grants for economically disadvantaged youth in the Pleasanton area. City Manager Bill Edgar told the city council Monday.

The city has asked for $8,261 to fund a 10-week summer youth recreation program for 150 economically disadvantaged youth eight to 13 years old. The program includes eight weeks of playground activities, arts and crafts, sports, games, movies, special events, excursions, and two weeks of day camp.

The city also asked for $4,899 for a weekly recreation program with "specific opportunities for skill enhancement" for 120 economically disadvantaged youth six to 18 years old in Komandorski Village. The council voted 4-0 (Joyce LeClaire absent) to approve the applications.

That, unless sooner redeemed, the undersigned Tax Collector, pursuant to said agreement will, not less than 21 days after the first publication or the mailing of this notice as required by law, whichever is later, sell said property to the Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

That upon the sale of the property the right of redemption will cease. For information as to the amount necessary to redeem apply to FRANK M. KRAUSE, Redemption Officer of Alameda County.

The property referred to and contained in said agreement is situated in the County of Alameda, State of California, and is substantially described as follows:

Act No. 941-205-1-12

In the Township of Pleasanton Beginning at the most eastern corner of Lot 22, in Block 6, as said lot and block are shown on the map of Tract 2486, filed May 28, 1964 in Book 48 of Maps, Pages 82 to 84, in the office of the Recorder of Alameda County; running thence along the northeastern line of Block 6, North 34° 50' 06" West, 1066.09 feet; thence North 55° 09' 54" East 176 feet, more or less, to the southwestern line of the Southern Pacific Railroad right of way 150 feet wide; thence South 34° 50' 06" East 1066.09 feet to a point that bears North 55° 09' 54" East from the point of beginning; thence South 55° 09' 54" West 176 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning. Being a portion of the lands shown on that certain map entitled "Map of a Subdivision of Plot A of the Dougherty Ranch," etc., filed May 1, 1894, in Book 15 of Maps, Page 17, in the office of the Recorder of Alameda County.

Philip Morris Announces The First Major Step Since The Filter Cigarette.

'Enriched Flavor' discovery revealed for new low tar cigarette.

Ever since filters were first introduced to cigarettes the trend has been to limit cigarette tar.

And with every new refinement in filtration, the tar levels went down.

Unfortunately, in most cases so did the taste.

Regardless of all the "low tar, good taste" claims you've read; regardless of all the fancy filters and space-age filtering systems you've tried — your own taste told you: the less tar, the less taste.

This is a report on a new kind of cigarette.

MERIT. Only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

Yet with incredible flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now — you'll be interested.

Smoke Cracked: 'Enriched Flavor'

After a twelve year research effort, a team of scientists at our Richmond Research Center succeeded in isolating the "key" flavor ingredients of tobacco as they exist in cigarette smoke.

By adding only those ingredients which were of extreme high quality as flavor producers yet low tar producing as well, we're now able to pack incredible flavor into a cigarette without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor'.

'Enriched Flavor'. It's extra flavor. Natural flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't drop out, can't do anything but come through.

We packed 'Enriched Flavor' into the tobacco used to make MERIT.

And began an extensive series of taste tests. The results were startling.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, all tested at home.*

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much — or more — taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette.

MERIT. Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.
